Fig. S1: Flow cytometry characterization of the phenotype and function of CAR T cells.

a. Phenotypic characterization of representative CAR T cells with flow cytometry showed that the cells were predominantly CD8+ with >90% expression of CAR (representative). The data is shown from one of at least three donor derived CAR T cell populations.

b. Schematic showing the different CAR designs used for single-cell profiling.